Description

The FLEX I platform floats available in our offer are a convenient solution for the construction of platforms and floating platforms. FLEX I inflatables allow you to create a floating space for sports competitions, concerts, shows, competitions and all kinds of events. They are safe to use, and the polyethylene they are made of allows them to be kept clean, which provides users with aesthetic value. Polyethylene is environmentally friendly and recyclable, therefore FLEX I floats are an excellent solution for customers who are looking for ecological solutions. A floating platform or a floating platform constructed with the use of FLEX I floats gives the customer the freedom to set up, so they easily meet the requirements and expectations of buyers.
