Description

FLEX II pontoons in our offer are durable and maintenance-free products that allow for trouble-free use for years. They can be easily kept clean thanks to the material from which they were made. Moreover, polyethylene is environmentally friendly and recyclable. FLEX II floats will prove themselves in the construction of platforms supporting vessels, ensuring safe and comfortable hanging and dismounting. In addition, platforms constructed of FLEX II floats will enable the creation of space on the water surface for multimedia and gastronomic service of events organized on and near water bodies, as well as for a number of cultural and sports events that are organized in or on the water.
