Description

WASSERTANK 1000 L

Efficient rainwater storage for larger demand

The WASSERTANK 1000 L rainwater tank is designed for efficient storage and retention of rainwater collected from roof surfaces via gutter systems. With its increased capacity, it is suitable for residential properties, businesses, agricultural facilities and commercial applications.

Durable construction and premium materials

The tank is manufactured from high-quality polyethylene (PE), offering excellent resistance to UV radiation, weather conditions and mechanical damage. Its stable free-standing design allows above-ground installation only, eliminating the need for excavation and enabling quick setup.

Technical specifications – 1000 L version

- capacity: 1000 litres
- tank diameter: 780 mm
- material: polyethylene (PE)
